The Einhell TC-IW 150 inverter welder is a high performance tool for performing arc welding jobs with clean results. The welding current is infinitely controllable. Thanks to the fan cooling system and thermostat with indicator light, this tool is also suitable for long work sessions. The performance range for welding current is 20 to 130 A, while the potential capacity range for TIG welding is 30 to 150 A. The electrodes have a diameter of 1.6 to 3.2 millimeters. Thanks to the selector switch for electrode or TIG welding, the tool can also be used to perform shielding gas welding. It is equipped with an earth terminal and electrode holder with quick-lock coupling. For mobile use there is a robust sheet steel housing with shoulder strap.
