The powerful TE-VE 550/1 A vacuum extraction system makes a clean job of heavy work – dust and chips are conveyed into the debris bag without any bothersome cleaning intervals. An automatic socket enables the vacuum extraction system to start up on its own as soon as the connected electric tool is started. The delay-function secures that all saw dust will be sucked out. Its long-lasting induction motor convinces by high suction and quiet running. There is a large adapterset included, to ensure that the machine can be used with as much as possible different machine connectors.
