The light Einhell GP-LB 36/210 Li E-Solo cordless leaf blower is a powerful blower which can be used anywhere outside the home and in the garden. Thanks to the electronic speed control, the blowing power can be precisely dosed according to requirements. For those areas where the cordless leaf blower is put to particularly intensive use, it has a turbo switch for maximum blowing power. The tube length can be changed toolless in 3 different stages, perfectly adjustable to every body height. The brushless motor results in longer running times, more power and no maintenance. An included shoulder strap makes it particularly comfortable to work with. This product comes without a battery and charger which are available separately.
